It's as entertaining as a stage show."

"I wouldn't have missed it for the world."

"What a fashion show."

"What a cooking school."

"How easy and enjoyable Miss Chambers makes cooking."

"I'm going right home and try out some of those delicious dishes."

"You'll find me at every session."

Those are just a few of the comments picked at random yesterday morning as hundreds of Atlanta women left the Georgia theater at the close of the first session of "Foods on Parade," the supreme cooking school of the year brought to Atlanta by The Constitution.

Success in Every Phase.

Success and enjoyment marked every phase of the fashion display and cooking classes at the first meeting yesterday morning. Miss Ruth Chambers, culinary expert, again endeared herself to the hearts of Atlanta women by her charming personality and the practicability of her lectures and demonstrations.

Heavy traffic about the theater caused yesterday morning by crowds attending "Foods on Parade" will be taken care of this morning by an emergency staff of traffic and officials at headquarters promised yesterday afternoon. The long lines of automobiles converging on the cooking school brought an unforeseen situation of temporary annoyance, but The Constitution has secured the aid of traffic directors during the remaining session to avoid a repetition of the inconvenience.

The largest crowd ever to attend The Constitution's annual cooking school filled every seat of the Georgia theater for the opening session of this year's "Foods on Parade." A special

Borah-Knox Battle Assured in Illinois

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A spirited battle for the presidential endorsement of Illinois progressive voters, in the usually lack-luster presidential primaries, is to be fought.

Senator William E. Borah's definite intention to compete in the state was announced by Edgar J. Cook, head of the Liberal Republican Voters' League, who displayed the senator's signed request for a place on the Illinois ballot.

Supporters of Colonel Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, said a similar formal declaration of Knox's candidacy would be filed on Thursday.

New Rum Car Releases Revealed As Police Probe End Is Postponed

Investigation of Alleged Racket Slated To Consume a Week; Records of Garage Are Ordered Brought Before Committee Tomorrow Night.

The expected end of the police committee probe of departmental irregularities was postponed indefinitely last night when the investigating group swung into two new angles with a prospect that more than a week will be consumed in ferreting them out.

Four new liquor cars, which are supposed to have been released illegally, were added to the list of the three which Chief of Police T. O. Sturdivant is alleged to have turned back to Ralph Owens, alleged bootlegger, as the committee veered from its announced intention to close the inquisition and return a verdict of its findings.

In addition, Councilman Alvin L. Richards, committee member, insisted that county police be contacted to obtain bootleggers' accounts, which, Solicitor John A. Boykin informed the committee, show that policemen have been paid for protection. It is said that amounts are listed.

Appears To Be Racket. Bridges characterized the disclosure concerning the new cars as revealing "what appears to be a racket."

"We should go to the very bottom of this matter," he said. "What we want is a check of all the records of the garage, just as far back as we

FARM BILL NEARS BALLOT IN SENATE

Farrar Warns Against Hysterical Buying; Dealers' Supplies Low.

Passage Looms as Solons Agree To Limit Debate and Vote Friday Night.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(UP)—Passage of the administration farm bill Friday was forecast late today when the senate agreed to limit debate starting at noon Friday.

The house will consider the bill next week.

The senate agreement was reached after adoption of an amendment by Senator James F. Byrnes, democrat, South Carolina, authorizing—but not appropriating—$500,000 to finance the farm bill.

Chairman McNaugton, Charles L. McNaugton, representative, Oregon, offered a rival farm bill based on embryo higher tariffs on farm products, and limitation of federal allocations to the states.

McNaugton and Senator Daniel O. Hastings, republican, Delaware, led the republican attack on the administration bill. Both Byrnes and Senator Joseph T. Robinson, democrat, Arkansas, who pointed his bill through two tons may have been or-dered.

Local prices so far have not been affected, though certain types of coal are reported to be from 50 cents to $1 higher a ton at the mine, he said.

Farrar described Atlanta's situation as "fortunate" in comparison with that of many other cities in the country. He said there should be no suffering if the weather improves.

Press reports from Knoxville said yesterday that mines in that section have been operating full capacity because of a threatened shortage due to cold weather. The reports said mines there are "now ready the demand pretty well satisfied but are not at

STATE TREASURER ORDERS OFFICIALS TO RELEASE FUNDS

Department Heads Withholding Money Called Upon To Pay It Into Coffers of Georgia.

State officials who have been withholding fees collected by their departments from the state treasury have been called upon by State Treasurer George B. Hamilton to pay the fees into the treasury, it was learned yesterday.

The calls were directed to Commissioner of Agriculture Tom Linder, Superintendent of Banks R. E. Gormley, Chairman Jud P. Wilhoit, of the Public Service Commission, and Charles E. Stewart, supervising inspector of naval stores.

Commissioner of Game and Fish Zack D. Cray, who also had been withholding funds collected by his department, paid his 1936 fees, totaling about $4,500 thus far, into the treasury yesterday.

State Treasurer Hamilton last night confirmed reports that the letters had been sent to the officials.

Called Attention to Law.

"I merely called attention to the law which says that such fees shall be paid into the treasury 'forthwith' and requested the officials to turn into the treasury any public moneys which they may be holding," the treasurer said. "I would hardly call my letter a demand on the officials. I told them that I was acting in the interest of harmony."

Chairman Wilhoit was the only official who could be reached late yesterday for a statement.

"The law provides that some fees from my department shall be paid into the treasury, and that the others may

WOMEN FILL THEATER FOR FOODS ON PARADE

Installed loud-speaker system has made every word of the lecturer-demonstrator as clear and understandable as her own delicious recipes and easy methods of cooking.

A gorgeous fashion show, which preceded the cooking class, gained the unanimous praise of the audience as the latest forecasts of spring and summer fashions were artistically displayed by 25 charming models. An off-stage announcement and explanation of the newest styles in dresses, gowns, suits, footwear and coiffures was particularly effective. With Howard Haire as master of ceremonies and the culinary lecture and demonstrations by Miss Chambers and her assistant, Miss Emily Conklin, the entire presentation moves along with the snap and life of a vaudeville creation.

"Road to Romance" Today.

"The Daily Road to Romance" is the title of this morning's session of "Foods on Parade." After yesterday's presentation of "Symphonies in Foods," Atlanta women know that the list of tasty, economical and easily prepared dishes which are on schedule for demonstration today will be an enchanting and intriguing as a magician's show.

Whether fine foods or latest styles are the housewife's chief interest, she will find herself entranced with the dual display at "Foods on Parade."

Again this morning, the doors of the Georgia theater will be opened to Atlanta women at 8 o'clock, with the fashion show at 8:45 and the cooking classes beginning at 9 o'clock and lasting until 10:45 o'clock.

If you attended "Foods on Parade" yesterday morning, we know you will be there again this morning and tomorrow morning and Friday morning, for you know how valuable and interesting the presentations are.

But if something keeps you away yesterday morning, just take the word of the nearly 3,000 women who did attend that it is something no Atlanta woman can afford to miss.

BLACK GIVEN SUPPORT FOR TREASURY POST

Senators George and Russell Approve Suggestion That Georgian Be Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today said both he and Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. had approved suggestion from the White House that Eugene R. Black Jr., second vice president of the Chase National Bank of New York and a former Georgian, be appointed undersecretary of the treasury to succeed Thomas Jefferson Coolidge, whose resignation from that post became effective next Saturday.

While no definite announcement that Black had been selected, the appointment came from either President Roosevelt or the secretary of the treasury, it is understood Mr. Black's name is being seriously considered and that he can have the appointment if he desires it.

Asked at his mid-weekly press conference this afternoon if it was true Mr. Black would succeed Mr. Coolidge, the President said there was nothing to give out on the matter at this time.

Black is the son of the late governor of the Federal Reserve Board. Prior to his appointment to the board, his father was head of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta. The son, a conservative in banking circles, is considered an authority on municipal bonds.

He is appointed and is confirmed by the Senate, it is expected his new duties on the same day that the resignation of another Georgian, Lawrence W. (Clip) Robert, as assistant secretary of the treasury, in charge of engraving and printing and mint, now second vice president of the Chase National Bank in Washington over the week-end, at which time it is expected he will confer with Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenau.

MELLON IS SILENT ON BORAH, POLITICS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(P)

Andrew W. Mellon said today he did not know of any support in Pennsylvania for Senator Borah, of Idaho.

That was about the sum and substance of things political that the white-haired 80-year-old financier and power in republican councils would say.

Here for his income tax hearing, Mellon explained that he was taking no active part in politics these days and did not care to talk about it.

"There are too many talking as it is," he observed with a grin.

State and Federal Officers Hunt For Child and Alleged Kidnappers

A south-wide search by state and federal officers was being conducted last night for Jacqueline Ryckley, 2-year-old daughter of Joseph Ryckley, of 1170 Gordon street, S. W., for whom kidnaping a man and a woman were indicted yesterday afternoon by the Fulton county grand jury.

Howard Johnson and Nora Johnson, whose address was given at 332 Ashby street, were charged with kidnaping little Jacqueline last Friday morning.

The father of the child said he had information the Johnson couple were hide-hiking toward Texas with the baby.

Ryckley declared federal investigators have been called in on the case and that officers in southern states have been notified to be on the lookout for the trio.

The father described his daughter as looking a great deal like Shirley Temple, the child movie star. She has brown eyes and blonde hair, he said.

The little girl recently had a permanent wave and her hair is very curly, the father said.

Ryckley, beauty shop operator, said last night he boarded his daughter with the Johnsons at 332 Ashby street some time ago. When he went to see her at 9 o'clock yesterday morning the Johnsons and the baby were gone and have not been heard from since.

NICARAGUAN CAPITAL IS SCENE OF VIOLENCE

Mobs Parade, Threaten To Fire Buildings as Aftermath of Slaying.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Feb. 11.—(UP)—A riotous mob paraded Managua streets tonight, threatening the electric light plant and attempting to set fire to several buildings as an aftermath of the slaying of a striking chauffeur by a British banker.

The National bank closed its doors as a precaution against looting. Many business houses followed suit.

General Anastacio Somoza, head of the national guard, addressed the strikers assembled in Central park and appeased them somewhat when he announced that Porfirio Perez, district attorney, and his wife, Police Chief Domingo Melendez was also present to submit his resignation.

The chauffeur was shot shortly after a strike was called when the strikers attempted to attack Charles Wheelock, part owner of a private bank which operates under the Banco Anglo Central.

Auto Destroyed.

Wheelock's automobile, which he was driving at the time, was destroyed by the mob. A cordon of national guardmen was thrown around his home, the door of which was barred by the British banker.

The mob, carrying the body of their dead comrade, paraded through the principal streets.

Additional police were posted at strategic points to avert increased violence.

The mob marched on the electric plant, owned and operated by the Citizens' Utilities of Minneapolis, Minn., and threatened to close it in an attempt to keep Managua in darkness tonight.

National guardmen were rushed to the plant.

Home Threatened.

An attempt was made to set fire to the Wheelock home and also that of president of the national district of Managua, against whom the strikers appeared to have directed the fury of their attack. A drug store belonging to the district president was partially destroyed.

Wheelock, Peruvian born of an English father and a Peruvian mother, has lived in Nicaragua since infancy. He is a World War veteran but he didn't recall mentioning the bonus in his letter. He kept no copy. He had intended to tear the letter up, he said, but on the spur of the moment mailed it, and then dismissed the incident from his mind.

WPA WORKER RECEIVES ANSWER FROM F. D. R.

President Thanks Writer for His Understanding of Nation's Problems.

ROOSEVELT, N. Y., Feb. 11.—(P)—Louis Stancourt, 38, WPA employee who wrote a letter to President Roosevelt and then forgot it, got an answer today.

Stancourt said his note in praise of the President and the WPA project to prepare an "American guide" was inspired by radio speaker's attack on "boondoggling" and waste of taxation.

Today he exhibited the reply:

"My Dear Mr. Stancourt:

"Though we have not met, your letter makes me believe that I can call you a friend—an understanding friend.

"It is not alone because you as a soldier of fortune have thought of us as your constituents.

"It is not alone because you do not know hold up to ridicule our efforts to do useful things with the public monies.

"It is not alone because you tell me that the American guide is to be a useful fact-book for our whole country.

"It is most of all because you give me the blessings of the unknown men whose voices seem never to be heard—because you rightly believe that I do try, as best as I may, to understand the human and spiritual problems of the millions in our great land who are loyal to our common ideals and who want to hold their heads high. I am grateful to you. You have helped me."

"Faithfully yours,

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

ASSESSORS TO VALUE LAND NEAR UNDERPASS

Fair Price for Property Fronting Project Will Be Decided Today.

Assessors appointed to place a valuation on property near the North Side drive underpass are to announce their decision this morning. County Attorney Ralph Pharr said last night.

The assessors, G. M. Stout, Harry Dews and Ward Wight, met yesterday afternoon and heard evidence in the matter from the state and the owners of the property, Houston White and Mary White Staton.

White and Mary White Staton own approximately 100 acres of land on North Side drive and condemnation proceedings were brought against the property by County Attorney Pharr. The assessors are to announce this morning the fair market value of the ground, and damages, if any. The property will be paid for on their award.

Right of way through the White property will clear all obstacles to the underpass under the Southern railroad on North Side drive and contract for construction will be made at the next letting, Pharr said. The project has been approved by PWA officials and allotments made for it have been endangered by delay in obtaining all rights of way.

LARGE SAVINGS SHOWN BY CHAMBER BUREAU

Secretary Shaw Makes Annual Report for Better Business Division.

Atlantaans were saved many thousands of dollars last year by the Better Business Division of the Chamber of Commerce, Frank K. Shaw, secretary, pointed out in the annual report announced yesterday.

Shaw said the division answered 978 inquiries at a total cost of less than $150, with a resultant saving of unestimated thousands to residents of the city and county.

The Better Business Division is primarily interested in preventing loss to the consumer rather than in punishing offenders after the loss has occurred, but the division co-operates in stamping out any and all kinds of rackets.

A nationally known expert, Shaw said, estimated Atlanta pays more than $6,500,000 a year to frauds of various types. The business division is prepared to render an immediate report on 2,353 business concerns and can report on many more with additional time.

Shaw urged the enlargement of the division, which saves many times what it costs.

The secretary pointed out that in six cases in which the division was interested, the amount of money involved was approximately $1,925,000.

Granger Hansell is chairman of the Better Business Division.

JUDGESHIPS POLL TAKEN BY LAWYERS

Bar Association Seeks Opinion as To Fitness of Bench Candidates.

Poll of Fulton county lawyers is being conducted by the Atlanta Bar Association to determine their opinion as to who is best qualified for municipal court judgeships.

Bond Almand, president of the association, announced the referendum yesterday.

Attorneys bearing the names of A. J. Hartley, Judge T. O. Hethcock, Judge Clarence Bell and Robert Carpenter have been mailed to all lawyers practicing in Atlanta with the request they mark which candidates for the two municipal court judgeships are, in their opinions, better qualified to hold the positions.

All lawyers were requested not to sign the ballots, which are to be counted and announced in the court room of Judge John D. Humphries on February 21.

The bar association decided recently to hold such referenda on all judicial races the municipal court judgeships being the first to come up since the decision was made.

Pan-American Nations' Conference Is Sought by President Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Initial steps toward the calling of a new Pan-American conference—presumably to be devoted to the promotion of peace in the new world—today were revealed by President Roosevelt.

At his press conference, the chief executive reported he had sent personal letters to the heads of all Central and South American governments, broaching the subject of a general peace of this hemisphere.

On the grounds that it would be discourteous to reveal the contents of his letters before they had been received by the heads of the governments concerned, Mr. Roosevelt declined to discuss his plans for the projected conference, or even the principal subject involved.

It was considered significant, however, that he spoke within four days after reports circulated in the capital that a peace conference would be called.

So guarded was the executive's statement today that it was not immediately known whether his letters constituted a formal invitation to a conference or whether they merely outlined this government's view and asked the opinion of the other chief executive on that subject.

He indicated, however, that Canada was not included in his plans for the peace.

A definite impression existed in Latin-American diplomatic quarters that the proposed conference would deal with methods for perfecting the peace machinery throughout the Americas.

In any event, close political and economic co-operation among the Americas, not only in matters confined to the western hemisphere but in world affairs as well, is known to be the hope of United States officials.

It was observed that the executive expressed the belief that if such a conference is successful it may result in the creation of what in effect would be a "League of American Nations."

An indication of the American attitude toward relations between the United States and its southern neighbor.

MAN FACING ARREST, ENDS LIFE WITH SHOT

LAUREL, Miss., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Deavours Keyes, 38-year-old Laurel resident, who was questioned about a year ago but never indicted in connection with the death of his wife, ended his life today by firing a charge from a shotgun into his breast.

Sheriff Charles Thompson and Deputy Van Valentine were waiting at the door to arrest him on a warrant charging him with the relations with his 15-year-old daughter, Katherine.

Sheriff Thompson said the girl's brother had filed the charges against his father and when he and the deputy called at the home to arrest Keyes they found him in bed.

The officers waited outside while Keyes was supposed to dress and heard the fatal shot. They found Keyes laid in bed, the shotgun by his side. One charge through his heart killed him instantly.

AIKEN, S. C., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Three young men charged with robbing the Edisto Cash Depository at Denmark of $8,000 December 2 pleaded guilty as they were brought to trial here today in United States district court.

Charles "Honey" Spires, of North, was sentenced to two years in Atlanta penitentiary and to pay a $1,000 fine. The charge against him was reduced by the government to robbery without use of a deadly weapon.

Elmer Leon Childers and Jesse L. Hodges, both of Indianapolis, were sentenced to six years each and each fined $1,000.

EDISON WILL NOT SEEK JERSEY SENATE SEAT

NEWARK, N. J., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Charles Edison, son of the famous inventor and staunch supporter of the Roosevelt administration, today eliminated himself as a possible democratic candidate for United States senator from New Jersey.

As a member of the National Emergency Council, Edison had been boomed recently as a strong candidate for the democrats to pit against United States Senator W. Warren Barbour, republican, in the November election.

"I have no ambitions for a political career," he said, "and am definitely decided not to run for any political office."

MIAMI BEACH NETS $8,500 IN RAID FINES

Winter Resort Police Continue Drive on Gambling Places.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 11.—(AP)—The big winner at swank Miami Beach gambling places is the city of Miami Beach.

A check of the city court docket today, following last night's unostentatious raids of three gaming places, showed fines for gambling operations since January 1 had fattened the city's funds $8,500, enough to pay police salaries for a average month.

Twenty-three assessors were sent to patrons, the raiders haled before the city judge 65 "hookies" and nine night spot gambling operators for standard assessments, respectively, of $50 and $50 each.

The crash-bang! style of raiding is not a la mode here, for the detectives go forth in smart evening attire, leaving axes behind that they may better mingle with the guests.

SENATE GROUP DELAYS LINT MARKET PROBE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—(AP)—

The senate agriculture committee deferred today open hearings on operating of cotton futures exchanges until the question what to do with government cotton holdings is settled.

The committee met in executive session to consider Chairman Smith's bill to sell the 6,000,000 bales of cotton at auction at a rate of between 20,000 and 25,000 bales a week.

Alfred S. Wylie, chief attorney for the committee, said the bill, pending on cotton futures exchanges, said disposition of the cotton was an important factor in market operations and it was this matter should be definitely settled first.

Within a week, told reporters no specific sums have been mentioned as a savings goal.

Deficiency Appropriations.
After reporters left his office, he signed the deficiency appropriations bill which, among other items, carried $2,500,000 to pay farmers for performance under AAA contracts until the supreme court swept them away.

Agriculture Adjustment Administration officials said their check-writing machines would be started up again at once and the reimbursement checks probably would go out before the end of this week.

Informed sources said that when and if the tax recommendations of his fiscal experts are approved by the President, the first item of legislation could be ready for submission to congressional committees immediately upon passage of the new soil conservation farm relief program. Administration leaders, it was reported, are desirous of keeping the tax question entirely apart from the farm plan.

The U.S. News, it was indicated, would be imposed on a permanent basis. Rates would be drastically reduced from those of the invalidated processing taxes; but the government would levy on many more commodities.

Wheat, Meats, Cotton.

Reductions in rates would range up to 65 percent, with the greatest decreases on those commodities affecting the most consumers—wheat, meats and cotton.

The new taxes contemplated under the second phase of the plan might be only temporary. At least six separate ways to obtain the amount desired have been proposed.

One of them, favored by some officials, would provide for elimination of the exemption of $2,500 for married men in computing surtaxes on incomes in excess of $10,000 annually. Some experts have estimated that such an elimination would raise about $250,000.

The third division of the plan would carry out the desire of many administration leaders to correct what Attorney-General Cummings called the "unfair" situation of processors who protested payment of processing taxes in courts getting their money back, while others continued to pay into the treasury.

The three divisions were reported to follow generally as many treasury needs in the farm situation.

Revenue Estimate.

Officials have estimated that grants under the soil conservation program now being debated in Congress would require about $500,000,000 annually.

The excise taxes would be expected to balance the budget.

In addition, the treasury would need revenue for the $296,000,000 just appropriated by Congress to pay the remainder due farmers for complying with terms of 1935 adjustment contracts.

The amount which may be sought in the retroactive levies would meet the AAA's deficit as of January 6, when the processing taxes were invalidated.

Until processors began last April and May to obtain injunction suits restraining collection of processing taxes, officials reported that tax collections balanced roughly with benefit payments.

CATHOLICS AND 'REDS' ARRESTED IN GERMANY

Mother Superior Is Given Sentence of 42 Months in Prison.

BERLIN, Feb. 11.—(AP)—An unverified number of Catholics and communists were arrested on various charges yesterday in simultaneous action by secret police in several sections of Germany, it was revealed today.

Unverified reports said the arrests totaled at least 100.

Eight persons associated with the Sisters of Saint Canisius have drawn severe sentences and heavy fines for violation of Nazi laws, it was disclosed.

Mother Superior Maria Greiter was sentenced to 42 months in the penitentiary and five other sisters drew sentences of seven months to seven months. Two male associates were sentenced to 18 and 21 months, respectively, in addition to heavy fines.

They were charged with illegal secret transference of funds to the chief office in Freiburg, Switzerland.

The Canisius order devotes itself chiefly to the furtherance of Catholic education.

A Catholic priest at Dresden named Kenter was sentenced to two years' imprisonment "for passing on inflammatory Marxist literature" falling under the term "atrocious propaganda."

While police were swooping down on priests and laymen, Reichsfuehrer Hitler telephoned his best wishes to Pope Pius on the anniversary of his coronation.

LIQUOR CAR RELEASES REVEALED AT HEARING

A preliminary check immediately and advise the committee at its regular meeting tomorrow night as to progress made and when it may expect a completed report.

All the seven cars in question were released the latter part of last year, and Bridges said he has been informed that more than 50 are involved in illegal releases.

Alerts to Be Called.

Hughes Roberts, Fulton county court employee who handles cars impounded for liquor, will be called before the committee before the automobile release investigations are concluded. Bridges indicated, with a view of revamping police rules and placing all releases "directly in Roberts hands when they should have been all the time."

As a verdict in the committee probe appeared imminent yesterday, police committee members conferred with Mayor Key in his executive offices.

After the conference none of the committee members moved what would indicate the line of discussion.

It was said, however, that a projected retirement on pension of Sturdivant, A. Lamar Poole, Sturdivant's first assistant, and Night Chief A. J. Holcombe was found "not to be feasible."

Key made that statement.

No Conclusions Reached.

Committee members yesterday last night to assert they have reached no conclusion as to what action will be recommended, if any, in the illegal release of the three liquor cars to Owens.

Finance committee members yesterday postponed action on a proposal by Senator John W. White for a director of public safety to supersede Sturdivant. White asked that action be deferred "to see if the police committee is going to do anything about this probe business."

In commenting on the new angles, Councilman J. Allen Couch, committee member said:

"It looks like a second section of this train is about to run."

New Search for Lt. Helms Spurred By Belief He Survived Plane Crash

200 Join in Hunt for Missing Flier, Fiance of Toby Wing, Screen Actress; Evidence Shows Pilot Was Alive After Crashup.

MARCH FIELD, Cal., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Spurred by indications Lieutenant John H. Helms may have survived his plane six weeks ago, 200 men batted rain and fog tonight in search for a trace of the missing army flyer.

"I am afraid there is little chance he will be found alive," said his commanding officer, Lieutenant Colonel John H. Pirie.

But an untrained 100 CCC workers, Colonel Pirie, dispatched 100 soldiers from March field to establish camp in San Bernardino National Forest, 25 miles from here, where the wrecked plane was found.

The renewed search was organized after evidence was found by army air corps officers that Lieutenant Helms, a tennis player and fiance of Toby Wing, film actress, was alive the night of the crash on December 30.

Colonel Pirie said an examination of the wreckage found yesterday a few miles from Cajon pass, one of the main highways into California from the southwest—indicated the 27-year-old pilot had crawled from the plane and walked away.

Officers expressed belief Helms might have fallen down one of the narrow canyons or over one of the waterfalls in the region while trying to reach a trail in the night.

The nearest ranger station was 15 miles over the mountains, although the airline distance was small.

Apparently he took with him from the plane his three day food supplies, water and first aid kits.

The crash took place apparently about 9 p. m. directly on the course Helms was flying from San Francisco to Los Angeles.

Various state railroad and utility commissioners will participate in the hearing, which will include the question of whether water carriers, subject to the interstate commerce act, also shall be permitted to continue emergency increases.

International Reps.

The two teams will assemble riflemen with international reputations. One of the outstanding members of the Atlanta Rifle Club team is Charles G. Hiers, who has represented the United States for four consecutive years on the international Dewar team. This team fires in annual matches between United States and Great Britain.

Hal L. Drake Sr. and Rufus Godwin, both members of Atlanta's 10-man team, have made notable records in international matches. Paul W. Robertson, another Atlantan, is well known throughout the southeastern states. Mr. Drake is a coach on the international Dewar team.

With such individual talent, the Atlanta team ranks high among the 2,700 teams in the country. National Rifle Association and riflemen agree the Atlanta club is equipped to handle American honors in competent fashion in this international shoot.

Members of Team.

Members of the Atlanta team besides Hambly, Drake, Godwin and Robertson are Bobby Childs Jr., Luther R. Gower, H. O. Davis Jr., A. J. Browning, J. D. Phillips and C. Endicott.

The Atlanta team will shoot Sunday at 2 p.m. in the indoor rifle range of the Atlanta Rifle Club on Alabama street.

The rules for the match will be:

Outstanding Achievements of Former Atlanta Execu- tive Cited at Dinner.

Outstanding achievements of W. A. Dobson, while Atlanta Boy Scout executive, were cited last night by Dr. Herman L. Turner, president of the council, at a testimonial dinner given Mr. Dobson at the Atlanta Athletic Club. Thirty-five prominent Scout leaders attended the dinner.

Scout membership in Atlanta tripled

during Mr. Dobson's administration of eight years as executive, Dr. Turner pointed out. In addition, he said, many supplementary organizations, including Explorers, Scouts, Cubs

and Sea Scouts, were added to the Scouting program.

Mr. Dobson succeeds Kenneth G. Bentz as regional director. Atlanta Scouting Club will honor him with another dinner to be held at 6 o'clock tonight at the Peachtree Arcade Club. Dr. Turner will be the principal speaker.

At the dinner last night, Hal F. Hentz, past president of the council, presided as toastmaster. Among those taking part on the program were Cherry Emerson, past president of the council; W. D. Hoffman, vice president of the council, and Fritz Myers, Scout commissioner. In behalf of Atlanta Scout leaders, T. W. Moore, past president of the council, presented Mr. Dobson with a silver service.

In his haste, he stationed himself on the wrong tracks and a Chesapeake & Ohio freight train struck and killed him.

Since January 1 the state has been operating without a general appropriations bill. Some departments are carrying on by using funds set over from last year. something else," Mr. Mindling commented. "Just put that down as a book."

"The United States Weather Bureau keeps detailed record of the weather all over the country, day by day," he said. "Experts who have studied this business from the ground up and have spent their lives in it and know detailed percentages and all that, study these figures day by day, and try to learn if some system of forecasting may be established whereby weather of the past may be used to prognosticate weather of the future."

"It is hopeless."

No Bearing on Future.

"Yesterday's weather is just yesterday's weather. It has no bearing on tomorrow's weather."

You'll hear persons say that weather acts in cycles. That severe cold spells, such as we have had this winter, occur with clock-like regularity. You may go through all our statistics and I defy you to find anything that may suggest of regularity in the behavior of the weather."

"We have had cold winters, followed by cold springs and cool summers. Every year's story is different."

Yesterday's highest temperature was 35 degrees. This morning's lowest is expected to be around 25 degrees with a rising of the mercury to higher levels during the day.

Piercing cold held sway from the Continental divide to the Atlantic coast, but sunny skies favored the prairie states.

Most interest centered in the attempt of 20 men to penetrate the frozen villages of Marion and Herford, in the Black Hills of South Dakota. The rescue party left Rapid City in 10 trucks. The isolated communities—each of about 200 population—have not been heard from a week.

A new tale of heroism came from Prairie City, Chippewa, Wis. John Murphy, 18, was stricken with a critical throat affection at CCC camp 18 miles from town. Captain Robert Wilson, camp physician, operated, placed the youth in an ambulance and held the "hole" in the patient's windpipe open so he could breathe while 40 comrades cleared a path through the snow barriers. The trip required three hours.

Families "doubled up" to conserve coal in Burke and Fairfax, S. D. Fuel shortages remained acute in some places in Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. Many schools were closed. Central Illinois mines quoted increased prices.

The milk situation eased as rail and highway traffic approached normal. The supply was still 40 per cent under average in Chicago.

Trains were as much as two hours late here.

Forecasters predicted the current cold siege would generally continue until Thursday. Readings today: Devil's Lake, N. D., -32; Bemidji, Minn., -28; Omaha, -7; Peoria, Ill., -10.

Iowans prepared for 25 below in the northern section of state overnight.

The 25th consecutive day of subzero temperatures eclipsed a 61-year record at St. Paul, Minn.

Two exposure deaths were recorded in Illinois and one in Minnesota.

plan. He plans to return to Atlanta Saturday.

Before departing he said he wished it known that no office workers or general campaigners were needed at present.

"The headquarters staff will be composed of volunteer workers," he said. "We are without funds to hire anyone, even if we needed them. I am happy to say that I have already obtained an adequate staff of volunteers."

Meanwhile all was quiet on the Roosevelt-Talmadge front yesterday following the exchange of letters Monday in which the Georgia governor demanded a preferential primary and Hugh Howell, the chairman of the Talmadge-controlled state executive committee, made a response which Allen declared "no answer at all."

Commenting on the statement of Allen concerning reply to the primary demand, the Talmadge chairman yesterday said:

"Of course the constitution of the United States is no answer to that crowd and the platform of 1932 is no answer to them, but the Russian prime might be. I don't know."

Continuing the Civil War president of the present occupant of the White House, Ikes said:

F. D. R. Lincoln Compared.

"It appears to have been Abraham Lincoln who scuttled the American constitution, set up a dictatorship, threw the supreme court into the Potomac river and declared a moratorium on debts."

"In fact, General George B. McClellan ran against him for president in 1864 on a 'save the constitution' platform."

Charged like that against Lincoln "though even more vehemently expressed" are being made against Mr. Roosevelt, Ikes said.

"It is one when a president has interested himself in the case of the plain people, when he is determined to equalize economic opportunities so as to establish a better and happier social order, that the copperheads, their ancestors and their descendants secrete an extra supply of venom with which to strike down the man who bravely tilts his lance against special privilege and entrenched greed."

Lincoln Praised.

After making his reference to "boondoggling," Talmadge, who says the way to prosperity is to "return to the constitution," turned to praise of Lincoln.

"In the words of Lincoln," Talmadge said, "we cannot dedicate, we cannot consecrate, we cannot hallow his memory, but we can be dedicated, we can be consecrated to our duty to our country in this time of stress and peril, and emulate his example, and in so doing we shall find that the government owes us a living."

He was World War veteran and a member of the American Legion and Masons. His wife, a son, Lawrence Abbott, Taylor's mother, Mrs. Abbott, and Taylor's four sisters and five brothers survive.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

AIMEE'S SECRETARY ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 11.—(PAP)—Vivian Denton, publicity writer for Angelus Temple, said today she swallowed poison last night because Evangelist Aimee Semple McPherson "fired" after accusing me of things I never did."

"Aimee said many cruel things to me," Miss Denton sobbed. "She said I had been sent to the temple by the devil."

The girl denied a statement attributed to her earlier by police that Mrs. McPherson pushed her down a flight of steps at the temple, injuring her nose.

Miss Denton said Mrs. McPherson accused her of being too loyal to Rhea Crawford, associate pastor of the temple.

Both Mrs. McPherson and Miss Crawford denied there was any rift between them.

SAMPLE IS ACQUITTED IN JEFFERSON SLAYING

Trial of Dr. Allen, in Wife's Death, Is Set for February 19.

By SYDNEY ROBERTS.

Associated Press Staff Writer.
JEFFERSON, Ga., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Ishmel Sample, 20, was acquitted of a murder charge today in the death of Lawrence W. Barrett, 57-year-old farmer, whose charred body was found on the Jefferson-Athens highway Christmas night.

Witnesses testified Sample escaped Barrett from a store into a nearby broomstraw patch to give the farmer an opportunity to recover from intoxication.

The prosecution charged Barrett was burned after being robbed of $35 he had displayed earlier in the day. The defense contended Barrett came to his death accidentally after setting himself afire by accident.

The verdict was returned within an hour after the case went to the jury.

Colonel-General Clifford Pratt said that the cases against Haywood Dailey, R. M. Sample and Ralph Allison, who also had been indicted in the death, would be dismissed.

The defense established through witnesses that the farmer had been seen alive after he had been placed in the broomstraw field.

By agreement of counsel, the trial of the case of Dr. Myron B. Allen, hoschton physician, charged with killing his wife, was set today for Wednesday, February 19.

Judge W. W. Stark said he would hear the case at a special term of court. The trial, scheduled this week, was postponed, officials said, because of illness of witnesses for the state.

The defendant was to have been given a hearing several weeks ago but an injunction obtained by the state on grounds two of its witnesses were missing, blocked consideration.

Dr. Allen, in his room at the jail here, Dr. Allen today expressed confidence of acquittal.

Dr. Allen occupies an unbarred room in the jail. He has three children. He was arrested after a murder warrant was sworn out by L. Ritchie, a brother-in-law.

MRS. MARY F. THOMAS DIES AT HOME IN ROME

ROME, Ga., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Mary F. Thomas, 80, widow of Dr. J. W. Thomas, a descendant of pioneer Georgia families, passed away at her residence on East First street. She was stricken ill last week.

Mrs. Thomas was born in Lumpkin county, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fort. Her brother was the late Charles Fort, of Atlanta.

Mr. Thomas' wife was a widow of Robert Hargrove. She moved to Rome with her parents when a child. She was married to Dr. Thomas in October, 1860, in the First Presbyterian church by Rev. Samuel E. Axson. He was a charter member of the Rome Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and had been active in its work since its organization. She had held office in both the local chapter and the state organization.

In recent years she was a leader in the Christian Scientist church and was one of a group in founding the church here and building the present church.

Carl Fort, of Atlanta, is a nephew.

Walter Bedard, of Atlanta, leader of the Atlanta Christian Scientist church, conducted the funeral services this afternoon from the residence and interment was in Myrtle Hill cemetery.

SOIL SAVING PROJECT IS STARTED AT ROME

ROME, Ga., Feb. 11.—The Agate soil conservation project is now operating with about 12.5 per cent of the farms and approximately 20 per cent of the 26,640 acres in the project area, it is stated here. The farms in the agreement are in both Floyd and Polk counties.

Many farmers in the area have a big problem in controlling the excess run-off after hard rains, when water accumulates between the ridges and frequently floods the entire valley. This not only does considerable damage to crops, but also deposits a large amount of silt which gradually washes down the barren hillsides.

The soil conservation service is planning to start at the tops of the slopes and control the water from these points throughout the valley. The reduction of the velocity of the water will be accomplished by increasing vegetative cover with strip crops, cover crops and reforestation, as well as with mechanical devices such as terraces and diversion ditches in the cultivated land and check dams in the gullied areas.

The water will be detained on the slopes and released slowly to supply moisture for the crops during the dry season, officials pointed out.

BARRETT PRAISES SUPREME COURT

Federal Jurist at Savannah Lauds 'Freedom of Press' Decision.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 11.—(AP)—Judge William H. Barrett, of Augusta, judge of the United States district court for the southern district of Georgia, praised the supreme court here today in his charge to the federal grand jury after referring to "unseen criticism by a high official."

The court obviously alluding to a recent statement by Henry A. Wallace, secretary of agriculture, in which Mr. Wallace described the supreme court's "radical" decision as "probably the greatest legalized steal in American history." He did not mention Mr. Wallace's name, however.

"Freedom of the press is one of the fundamental rights of the people and one of our safeguards," the jurist stated, with reference to yesterday's decision of the supreme court in the Louis D. Long advertising tax on newspapers.

"Public opinion is the greatest bulwark we have against all ills," Judge Barrett asserted in another portion of his charge.

Speaking what he termed the "very remarkable record" of the highest tribunal, Judge Barrett pointed out that the supreme court does not attempt to say what policies the government shall adopt, but whether they come within the constitution.

The court's reference to the supreme court came after he had mentioned there were "radical differences of opinion" in the world today.

WHITE PARK PURCHASE IS THOUGHT UNLIKELY

Finance Committee Reports Dr. Collum's Refusal of $50,000 Offer by City.

Hope dimmed for retention of the John A. White park as a municipal institution yesterday when a special committee of the finance committee reported that Dr. O. E. Collum had turned down an offer for $50,000 cash for the 86 acres he owns.

Finance committee members promptly advanced a proposal from Collum to lease the tract to the municipality for $2,400 for the remainder of the year, and prepared to file conclusive actions in council Monday in a move to definitely end negotiations.

It was reported Collum plans to lease the tract to Bell J. Spiller, for management of the golfers, for operation of a nine-hole golf course. At the present time there is a nine-hole course in operation. Only four holes are on the city-owned 21 acres of property.

Jury Continue Probe.

Coincidently with the finance committee actions yesterday, the Fulton county grand jury continued its investigation into the park. No new presentations have come from the probe, pending appearance of Mayor Key before that body.

The special committee filed a three-page written report with the finance committee, relating its inability to reach an amicable agreement with Collum. The report said Collum paid $20,000 for the 86 acres that the city had paid a total of $25,450 free of all taxes, and if the amount paid was credited on the original purchase price of $65,500, the city would owe only $43,350 at the present time.

In addition, the report pointed out the 21 acres bought from the Oliver Doolin tract was purchased at a 20 per cent reduction from the original agreement, but that Collum had refused to allow any such cut on his holdings.

Collum "Demanding."

The following comment was contained in the committee report:

"The park is now owned by the city to trade, the more demanding Dr. Collum became as to his price, and more independent as to his attitude. He proved conclusively that to him the matter was strictly one of business that the city had the position whether certain of its citizens wanted it or not. It can be purchased no matter what the price, and if he sat steady he would get any price he wished."

"It appears it will be to the interest of the taxpayers of Atlanta that those citizens who are so sincere in their motives and so anxious that the additional 86 acres be retained by the city at all costs, that instead of using the great amount of money to be expended for the purchase of this park at an unreasonable figure, that they would use their good powers to convince Dr. Collum to think a little less of the amount of profit he should receive on the sale of this land, but the decline in the standard of living which caused unemployment would continue until about 1950."

However, Babson told the Miami Beach Committee of One Hundred in a speech that he believed no plan had been tried would relieve this country's unemployment conditions.

Asserting "we are in a period of decline in our standard of living," he said a "spiritual awakening" was needed before America could be raised "out of the slough of despondency."

The statistician, who a year ago advocated the creation of a secretary of character in the President's cabinet, continued:

"The standard of living can be affected by the attitude of the people. Higher prices do not tend to make a higher standard of living."

"We are ruled not by figures but by feeling, which determines our desires and these influence our standard of living. This nation is awaiting another great spiritual awakening to solve its economic problems."

Two city officials were questioned by the grand jury about the details of the transaction and the assessed valuation of the park land but the probe will not be closed until the majority was understood.

West Before Jury.

B. Graham, city comptroller, and City Tax Assessor J. S. Little answered invitations to come before the jurors yesterday.

It was understood West told of the negotiations made by the city to buy the 86 acres of land belonging to Dr. Collum at a price of $65,500. The deal was stopped by court order because one council cannot legally bind the succeeding council to financial contracts.

Tax Assessor Little was reported to have declared the Collum land was assessed at about $600 an acre in 1928. His estimate of the current valuations was said to be between $200 and $300.

Found Nothing Illegal.

The grand jury has found nothing illegal in the transaction at all, it was said, and is now only seeking to establish a "fair" price for the 86 acres. Dr. Collum asks $60,000 and Mayor Key has asserted he will not pay more than $25,000.

The mayor will be invited to attend a special session in the near future by Foreman J. T. Upchurch and the jury will insist that Key comes before it before any action is taken on the matter.

The jury recently recommended the Collum land be purchased, since $141,000 in improvements made by the city in 1928. His estimate of the current valuations was said to be between $200 and $300.

Dobbs, chairman of the trustees; Dr. Earl Floyd, superintendent of nurses; Dr. Earl Floyd, president of the medical staff. Gay murals about the walls of the children's ward, done during the last year by WPA artists, have added attractiveness.

Speaker Lauds Grady's Progress At Dinner Honoring Staff, Trustees

Grady hospital's growth as the bedrock of an efficient medical foundation with modern facilities to assure Atlanta's reputation as "the great medical center of the southeast" was visioned last night by Dr. Harvey W. Cox, president of Emory University.

Visiting staffs of the various hospitals then could plan together and work together. The hospitals could work out internal expenses. Common warehouses could be utilized; materials could be bought collectively and at cheaper prices.

Doctors would find improved facilities for research. They could thrash out medical problems more conveniently. Libraries could be provided and these libraries are needed by the doctors.

"With such a hospital development Atlanta would be known as the great medical center of the southeast."

"I am pledging Emory's support to such a program. Our move should be to get the interest and the backing of the citizens."

Grady's accomplishments since its present board was created were reviewed by Dr. Cox. That board consists of Samuel C. Dobbs, chairman, J. Frank Beck, Arthur L. Harris, R. Guiney, James L. Key, Kendall Weisiger and James L. Wells.

The history of the institution since it opened in 1892 was traced and figures cited to show the improvement of recent years.

The total number of patients for 1935 was 94,152 as against 45,885 in 1929. Operating costs in 1935 were $502,479.68 against $533,914 in 1929. Cost per patient per day was $2.50 in 1935 against $3.01 in 1929. Mortality in 1935 was 6.04 per cent against 8.5 per cent in 1929. Average days of bed occupancy per patient in 1935 was 8.3 against 14 in 1929.

Nurseries and children's wards have been remodeled and painted. Gaudy illustrations of various animals have been done in murals on the walls to delight the children and brighten the atmosphere.

More than $200,000 has been spent in improvements on the buildings for colored patients.

More than $300,000 has been spent to build trenches for an orderly system of steam pipes, which will reduce fuel waste.

A new dining room has been completed in the basement for the feeding of negro orderlies and nurses.

All buildings have been rewired, removed a serious fire hazard.

Approximately $40,000 more is about the amount for the remodeling of the white clinic.

The kitchen to the doctor's dining room is being improved.

Improvements Expected.

These are a few of the hospital's accomplishments during the last year through the help of the WPA. Miss Anna B. Feebeck, its director, and R. L. McDougal, its engineer, are the young person who are doing the work.

More WPA improvements are expected during the year.

Beyond these improvements, however, Dr. Cox, whose university is allied with Grady hospital through its medical school, saw the need for a fight for a higher goal than mere physical improvement of the hospital and its personnel.

"We must have co-operation," he said, "in their satisfaction in having done a worthwhile service to humanity."

Mr. Dobbs pointed out that 80 per cent of the negro babies born in Atlanta last year were born at Grady hospital.

Doctors of Atlanta, he said, have contributed more than $1,250,000 for the hospital.

"We can only pay these doctors get," he said, "is their satisfaction in having done a worthwhile service to humanity."

Guests at the dinner were the following members of the administrative staff of the hospital:

J. B. Franklin, superintendent; Dr. Joseph H. Hines, medical director; R. H. Openbome, dean; Miss A. B. Feebeck, superintendent of nurses; Dr. Jack C. Norris, pathologist; Dr. W. W. Bryan, roentgenologist; Miss Ruth Sheafe, director of admissions, and Clement J. Ford, superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Mr. W. Johnson, pastor of St. Mark M. E. church, delivered the invocation.

Other ministers present were Dr. C. R. Stauffer, pastor of the First Christian church, and Dr. W. H. Knight, pastor of the Tabernacle Baptist church.

Others present included: Miss Alice Owens, superintendent non-manual project, Works Progress Administration.

Mrs. Haas urged citizens not only to favor consolidation but also to register and vote. "People will have to vote on 60

ENGINEER, FIREMAN DIE IN TRAIN EXPLOSION

MONCKS CORNER, S. C., Feb. 11.—(P)—The engineer and fireman of the Atlantic Coast Line's southbound Florida special were killed 10 miles north of here today when a broken side rod punctured the engine boiler, filling the cab with steam and forcing them to jump. C. B. Rutledge, about 60, of Florence, the engineer, set the brakes before leaping and the train ground to a stop a few hundred yards down the track.

Rutledge died for several hours after the accident, dying in a hospital here, but Paul Etheridge, negro fireman, also of Florence, was dead when other trainmen reached his body after the train stopped.

"It is strange that so many people are in a big rush—to get nowhere. The only remedy that really will cure the disease of speeding and reckless driving is to limit the speed to a minimum with a governor on the machine, or to have no speed limit at all. With no speed limit, the highways would eventually be safe—for those remaining."

Don't Be a 'Show-Off' Auto Driver, Atlantan Warns in Letter to Council

A driver who "slam-bangs" his way through traffic at a dangerous speed is a threat to the public welfare and must be held responsible, the opinion of Charles Boroughs, of 485 East Pace's Ferry road, as stated yesterday in a letter to The Constitution Safety Council.

"Drivers must be made to realize how absurd it is to drive home in the shortest possible time and, accordingly, only 'loaf' with nothing to do all the evening except, perhaps, to read about the day's automobile accidents or play bridge," says Mr. Boroughs.

"Almost any man driving a high-powered car, will, on occasion, be tempted to 'step on it' and show the boys what the old bus will do. Stop the 'show-off' somehow and accidents will decrease."

Most accidents may be explained as too much speed for the time and place. Don't be a "show-off" or a "diseased" driver.

Be safe. Be thoughtful of your fellow man, of other motorists and of pedestrians.

ATLANTA YOUTHS GET COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS

Local Athletes Receive $30,000 in University Education Board Is Told.

Atlanta youths, who displayed proficiency in athletics, have obtained $30,000 worth of college education within the past few months. George S. Lowman, chairman of the athletic and military committee of the board of education, yesterday asserted as he opened a meeting in the board for compensation for coaches.

Lowman said the boys are being given college scholarships valued at $30,000 by various colleges, and cited specifically that seven members of the Boys' High school championship football team have been able to go to college.

The board instructed Lowman to give coaches' pay study and to file recommendations at subsequent meetings.

Mrs. D. R. Longino, thirteenth ward board member, obtained board sanction to back a council ordinance making it illegal to drive against diphtheria a condition precedent to entrance into the Atlanta school system, approval of a health conference to acquaint the public with health moves being initiated by the board and endorsement of a measure providing that all students will participate in athletic contests by subjecting them to a thorough physical examination before being allowed to enter contests or training.

City doctors will be asked to cooperate in the latter undertaking.

Other Major Actions

Among other major actions of the board were the following:

1. Referred to the finance committee for report a proposal by Ernest J. Brewer to her relatives of board members from school pay rolls, and heard Ed S. Cook, board president, rule out of order a second Brewer measure designed to prevent a board member from holding an office in Parent-Teacher organizations. Brewer protested but Cook stuck to his ruling and said he was backed by an opinion from City Attorney Jack C. Savage.

2. Adopted a rule change providing that the first vice president of the board shall automatically become president if for any reason the presidency should become vacant during any year.

3. Set up $3,674 as a contingent fund to meet various expenses incident to administration of the school bond issue.

4. Ordered a Lowman initiated move to take the private telephone of Eugene Sanders, president of the Atlanta Public School Teachers' Association, from Bass Junior High school.

5. Referred to the current expenditures committee a move by Lowman to substitute a 5-cent a mile transportation allowance in lieu of blanket allowances now given employees.

Mrs. Allen Elected

6. Elected Mrs. H. H. Allen a member of the board of lady visitors from the second ward and heard reports that Mrs. A. N. Anderson, for two years president of the visitors, has been succeeded by Mrs. Ralph L. Ramsey. Mrs. G. Richardson, wife of City Clerk Joe Richardson, was named first vice president.

7. Expunged from board records addresses made by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools; Mrs. Longino, and W. W. Matthews, board members, referring to various names and the address in January of Retiring President Brewer. The board also ordered that the names of five board members who left a meeting and broke a quorum during a row over architects be entered into the minutes of a special December meeting.

8. Heard claims of the high standing of Atlanta students in various colleges and land the high attendance in local schools despite inclement weather.

Asks Increase.

9. Sutton also asked the board to consider means for increasing school revenues in order that the heavy cuts imposed on the school board employees may be restored and the services of the system raised.

10. Voted to establish two special committees for the year. One to study co-education in high schools and the other to review textbooks. A $25,000 fund for purchase of textbooks also was established.

11. Heard that four teachers were married during the past several weeks, and granted leaves of absence to about 20 teachers.

12. Voted a study of teachers who reach 65 years of age this year and who under board rules must be retired. Dr. Reid Hinman, assistant superintendent, said about 30 will be affected, some of them well-known educators and prominent in local cultural life.

The Georgia penal system, subject to numerous attacks, has its advantages over other prisons which have been torn by internal strife and riots, officials of the Association of Prison Commissioners of the Southern States revealed at a conference at the Winecoff hotel here.

At the session here, leaders studied an interstate prison commission proposal which is under consideration for the entire nation.

Recent troubles in prisons in Illinois, Kentucky and other states were cited in the sessions which were presided over by Harvey D. Gill, of Washington. It was pointed out that Georgia has had no such troubles, despite individual attacks on the chain gang system.

... Yet Get Superior Air-Conditioned Refrigeration

You can buy a beautiful 1936 air-conditioned ice refrigerator with the same amount of cubic feet capacity for as much as $150 less than other types of refrigerators which not only do not provide air-conditioned refrigeration, but tend to dry out foods, allow food odors and flavors to be absorbed by other foods, frequently require special covered dishes (remember, bacteria increase more rapidly in covered dishes) and offer only an inadequate supply of ice—ice which has often absorbed foreign food odors and flavors.

It is apparent to anyone that air-conditioned refrigeration is far superior, yet it is far more economical.

PARIS DEMANDS SOVIET PAY PRE-WAR DEBTS

France To Consult Signers of Treaty Before Entering Conflict.

PARIS, Feb. 11. (AP)—A demand that Soviet Russia pay its pre-war debts to France was made today when the chamber of deputies opened long-awaited debate on ratification of the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance treaty.

Charles De Lastic, former minister of finance, urged a delay in ratification until the demands had been made to settle earlier loans he estimated at $200,000,000 francs (about $13,800,000,000).

France's intention of consulting signers of the Locarno treaty before going to war against Germany or to the aid of Russia in the event of an attack against her was pledged to aiding Russia.

This was designed to answer Germany's protest that the pact violates the Locarno treaty.

Approval of the treaty is accepted as a foregone conclusion and Soviet and French military leaders are already discussing application of its terms.

The treaty provides immediate military assistance if either France or Russia is the object of "unprovoked aggression" by a European power, but in case Japan and Russia went to war France would not be pledged to aid the Soviets.

In order to permit the members of the commission to have before them the entire program of the Atlanta Dogwood Festival, a meeting which was announced for Friday has been postponed to await the arrival of Hugh Donaldson, consulting director, who is in the east negotiating with a feature attraction for the week.

Mr. Donaldson, whose appointment was announced yesterday, has been sending back reports of his progress, it is said, at festival headquarters, and indicates an excellent series of attractions will be added and is tentatively signed. This program will be laid before the Dogwood Festival commission at the forthcoming meeting.

Choice of the new meeting date will be made by Mayor Key, honorary chairman, and members will be notified in a letter from the mayor as to the date selected.

SEEK INDICTMENT

Jury Expected To Take Up Charges Against Howell.

The United States federal grand jury today is expected to again take up the charges that Alex S. Howell, former supervisor of the State Department of Education, used WPA workers under his jurisdiction to mail copies of the Atlanta Woman's World, anti-New Deal weekly.

United States District Attorney Lawrence Campbell will present a bill of indictment before the grand jurors this morning, it was understood.

Howell is a brother of Hugh Howell, chairman of the state democratic committee, and formerly was in charge of a WPA project.

RECORD BELIEVED SET FOR LIGHT AIRPLANES

DAYTON, Ohio, Feb. 11. (AP)—Ione Coppedge and Josephine Garrigus, both of Dayton, are believed to be a world's altitude record for light airplanes late today. They said they ascended between 14,600 and 15,000 feet over east Dayton.

Miss Coppedge, secretarial worker at Wright field, army air base, was pilot. Miss Garrigus, a flier in her own right, was passenger.

The record involved is for planes weighing less than 500 pounds. The present record, according to available information here tonight is about 14,000 feet.

The tiny ship, powered by a two-cylinder, 36 h. p. motor, took off at 2:15 p. m. and landed at 4:07 p. m.

MELLON TAX CASE COMPLETED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11. (AP)—The government today completed its case against Andrew W. Mellon before the board of tax appeals.

Early conclusion, possibly tomorrow, of the frequently-interrupted hearings begun a year ago was indicated when Frank J. Hogan, Mellon's lawyer, said he had only a "few little details" in rebuttal.

Before then will be filed, but it may be many months before a decision is announced. The government seeks to collect $3,075,103 in taxes on Mellon's 1931 income. The former secretary of the treasury, who has charged "political persecution," asks a $139,045 refund on the $647,559 he paid for that year.

Fulton county motorists yesterday were urged by Sheriff James L. Lowry to purchase automobile license tags by February 15 to avoid payment of a certification fee required by law for late application.

Lowry pointed out that each application after the tag sale ends must be approved by the sheriff of the county, and the law makes it mandatory for the sheriff to charge a fee of $1.00 for the service.

Atlanta Belle Is First To Lead Two Military Balls at Georgia

By Sally Forth.

SOCIAL history will be in the making when Mary Bach goes back to the University of Georgia on February 21 to act as honorary cadet colonel at the annual military ball. And from all Sally can gather, the innovation is attributable solely to Mary's popularity.

It seems that when you have led one military ball at the historic institution of learning, you have reached the pinnacle of social success, from the student viewpoint at least. But when this honor comes the second time—well, you are what the younger set is pleased to call "elected." Two years ago, when a junior at the university, Mary led the ball with Cadet Colonel William Buchanan. In the meantime, she has graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in journalism and has become a full-fledged alumna.

But that does not mean that she is forgotten at the university. Far from it. For when it came time for Cadet Colonel Dan Bowden to name his honorary colonel to lead the ball, he chose Mary. And she, meeting, the round of calls will begin again and will probably continue every afternoon for several weeks, for the list of hosts to be called upon is quite long.

When Sally Forth telephoned one of the aforementioned four some last evening to get a reaction from the adventure, she found the debbie very enthusiastic about her afternoon. "It was just like debuting again," reported this ex-debutante.

My Day

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

THE WHITE HOUSE, WASHINGTON, D. C.—I was told a most interesting story today about a piece of work that a woman has been doing for several years.

At the suggestion of the late William Howard Taft, Mrs. Ruth G. K. Strawbridge started the Philadelphia Help Bureau in her own home. It allows people who are in need of advice to come to her.

She has really established a clearing house through which she has directed people into the right channels for such assistance as they need. She studies her own city, knows the people who will be willing to see those who are in need of help, and sends her clients to them without even a letter of introduction.

She feels it is better that they should tell their stories without another person preparing the way, and she has found herself gradually working up to a point where over 200 people visit her every week. Needless to say, this is more than she can handle, and so she has turned it over to a group of churches.

I asked her what percentage of her visitors she had been able to follow up, and about how many she felt had been permanently started on a basis which would permit them to proceed under their own momentum and solve their own difficulties.

She said about four out of every ten were only temporarily bewildered, and were quite able to proceed by themselves when helped to think through their own situations. After that they climbed up hill again, instead of sliding steadily further down.

This struck me as extremely significant, for it would indicate that over one-third of the people who are in trouble, if they knew of some place to go where really sane advice is available, might start themselves going in the right direction again.

One amusing touch was her claim that many young people are intimidated at home. Their parents will not listen to them, but immediately begin to scold before the young people have a chance to explain their difficulties, or their point of view.

Good listeners are always a godsend and work of Mrs. Strawbridge's kind may prove to be helpful at the present time.

Woman's Club Elects Nominating Committee at Session

At the meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Club on Monday the following members were elected as the nominating committee: Mrs. Mesdames A. C. Rhodes, Wellington Stevenson, Howard C. McCutcheon, A. P. Treadwell and J. Douglas Swartzley. Mrs. Helen Douglas, the parliamentarian, was present and Mrs. W. F. Melton, the president, presided.

Mr. and Mrs. William Clifford Stevens, of Milwaukee, Wis., arrived yesterday to visit Mrs. Stevens' brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Morgan, at 1285 Peachtree road. They have been here several weeks in Miami, where they met many prominent Atlantans, and are en route to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris entertained at a buffet supper last evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Stevens. Yellow and bronze flowers predominate in the decorations on the exquisitely appointed table in the dining room. The Dresden china centerpiece had a graceful arrangement of flowers and yellow taper candles were placed in the Dresden chandelier.

- MYSTERY HOUSE -

By KATHLEEN NORRIS

INSTALLMENT XV.

"Rand will you come out on the terrace with me a moment? I want to ask you something." Page had finished her breakfast; she had turned rather pale. They walked out into the sunshine together. "Rand," the girl said, "could Flora have had anything to do with it?"

"Why do you say that?" Rand stared at her, frowning.

"Because other people think that something queer has been going on here at Mystery house."

"What people?"

"Well, I'll tell you. The Bibbese's—Barnes Bishop, in San Francisco—said that I might tell you. They thought that some influence was being used on Mrs. Prendergast to make her leave her money to someone else. Who could it be but Flora? And if the two sisters had met and been reconciled, that might have cut away the inheritance from Flora, mightn't it?"

"But Flora won't inherit anyway. Why should she? The old lady will leave her something, of course, but not enough to hurt Mrs. Roy's share—or the Bibbese's share, as it is now."

"The Bibbese think that Mrs. Prendergast might have a motive in leaving a good deal to Flora. She may have known something about Mrs. Prendergast—that would make it worth Mrs. Prendergast's while to keep friends with Flora." Page had said significantly. "Barnes Bishop sent me a purse for Christmas—do you remember? It came all done up as a gift, but there was a note in it. He told me he had found out that someone was trying to get rid of Mrs. Roy's diamond. It was a diamond worth a thousand dollars a month to the account of Flora Mockbee in a San Jose bank."

"Great Scott!" Rand ejaculated.

"They suspect that Mrs. Prendergast had a quarrel with Trudy Mockbee, and that there was something queer about Trudy Mockbee's death."

Culbertson on Contract

By ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

(Mr. Culbertson is acting as referee and reporter for a "grand" bridge game. By special arrangement he fines the players for their errors according to degree of stupidity. Class A errors cost them $1; class B, $2.50; class C, $5; class D, $10. This is the second hand in the series.)

South was inclined to be mournful over the fact that he had made a relatively small sliver, a matter of 1,220 points—without getting the slightest reward. I reminded him solemnly that West had contributed $1 to the kitty because of his bad double. South only snorted. The next hand was dealt.

The bidding:

East South West North

1 club 1 spade 2 diamonds Pass

2 notrump Pass 3 notrump Double*

*Final bid.

South knew his partner's double demanded a spade opening lead and his own length in the latter properly induced him to lead the spade seven. North's queen lost to the king. Declarer then led the king of clubs and when South stayed off, followed with the jack. Since South's object in holding up had been to deprive declarer of a club continuation, declarer, to his own hand, he won the second round with the ace. To my amazement, instead of leading a diamond, he attempted a "hoax" play—underleading his heart ace, hoping North had the queen and declarer would guess wrong. I think his penalty double, had to have diamond as his trump suit, should hold the heart queen for his no trump bid.

East won the heart in his own hand and ran off his four good clubs, then returned the heart, knocking out South's ace. The ace of spades was the declarer's only other trick, the contract being fulfilled with an overtrick.

North was the first to howl, "Class D, professor!" he yelled. And to his partner: "You're lucky. I'm not the referee—I'd give you life!"

But I was not to be traduced.

"A bad play, undoubtedly," I said, "but class C more accurate, since he had to add another dollar for South's one spade overcall, vulnerable, on such a weak hand."

"Well," chortled East, "that's six bucks for the kitty!"

"Oh, the kitty will do better than that," I said. "You're fined $1 for that two no trump bid of yours, and West will have to pay the price for his own two clubs, which he should have bid two hearts. You don't think, just because South made a rotten play, that you're going to get away with murder, do you? I don't judge by results!"

East and West muttered something under their breath, but they had been put in class D.

TODAY'S QUESTION. Question: Is a team allowed to use any system whatsoever, as long as it makes proper announcement in tournament play?

Answer: No. The major tournaments bar systems that would require an unreasonable length of time to be explained. All widely known published systems are, of course, acceptable, such as the Culbertson-Sims and Vanderbilt club systems.

BACHELOR OF THIRTY-THREE.

Answer:

Aren't you making the mistake of trying to work out a 20th century problem according to 19th century ideals and ideas? Why consider a re-nomination? Why resort to a secret arrangement? Why not let the girl give up her job and come to live with your family? There are difficulties in any way you turn but it seems to me that there is a better solution of your problem than any you have suggested. It is to get married, live as you are living, apart, except for weekends and holidays. Let the girl keep her job and support her parents and herself. You continue to look after your responsibilities. "Half the loaf is better than no bread" and even if you cannot now offer to support your wife you will at least have made a start toward a home and babies and normal marriage.

Even parents get a lump on them when their darling son or daughter whom they have leaned heavily marries him a wife. Widowed sisters who have sat with folded hands and accepted stipends from bachelor brothers-in-law sometimes go to work and fend for themselves when the bachelors become benefits. Younger brothers who are yet in school find ways and means of putting themselves through college when there is no longer an open hand to feed and clothe them and buy their books. But none of them has ever made a move toward independence so long as the money grew on trees.

These young people who are eating their hearts out with longing and worrying themselves sick over deferred hope of marriage have to take time by the forelock, get married and face the future together, whatever it may hold. Suppose there is privation and self-denial ahead. This is not as bad as doubts and fears and uncertainties. Suppose the home and babies have to be indefinitely postponed. At least the young couple has made a start toward the goal.

There has probably never been a time in history when so many young folks were saddled with support of parents and other dependents. In almost every instance this spells a marriage problem. There is usually a solution for the most knotty and perplexing of young people, but they don't expect to be married before their parents and grandparents.

Miss Mary Campbell Everett and Elizabeth Everett received the cards at the door. Pouring tea were Mrs. J. Sam Guy and Mrs. C. A. Rhodes.

Friendly Counsel

By CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Problems of general interest submitted by readers of "Friendly Counsel" will be answered in this column, correspondence, part of the column, will be held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care of The Atlanta Constitution.

Dear Miss Chatfield:

For the last 10 years I have been in love with a girl who lives and works in a nearby town. If we were both free and had nobody but ourselves to consider we would be married immediately. She is responsible for support of her parents, though she has married brothers. I can provide a good home for only myself and my family. I am a widow, a widow's son and a young brother, yet to finish his education, are dependent upon me. Thanks to my mother's economics I manage to take care of what is on my hands. If my girl and I were to be married it would mean she would have to give up her position. Neither is she dependent upon me. Neither is she dependent upon me. We have been hoping that the day would be cleared for us, that we might be married while we are young enough to rear a family. This is the beginning of the second decade and we seemly are no nearer our goal than we were at the beginning of the first decade. As it is, only one of two ways is open to us: a secret marriage or a great renunciation. This will be hard on us both, as we are so deeply in love. But at least I will be giving her opportunity, while she is yet young, to attract a man in better circumstances. I have waited for a long time, I forgot, until I am physically ill and exhausted.

What should I do?

AVERAGE PRICE.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—The average price of middling cotton today at 10 southern spot markets was 11.38 cents a pound; government subsidy 6.62 of a cent a pound.

ATLANTA SPOT COTTON.

Atlanta spot cotton closed steady; middling 5 points up at 12.00.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 11.—(P)

Cotton lost ground today as active futures slipped off from 3 to 10 points. On short covering purchases and buying in of hedges by mill interests.

Other positions were under pressure during the entire dealings. Poor cables started prices lower at the start of trading and early declines were never recovered.

Talk of a possible short squeeze in March was heard and was said to be largely responsible for traders getting out of this option. There was a little more in the way of commitment because of the holiday tomorrow at New York, but this did not prove sufficient to bring the general list even with previous closing levels.

Reports and contradictory advices continued to arrive from Washington relating to the new soil erosion bill and the Smith plan for marketing loan cotton. The senate agricultural committee was in session today and held over Johnson and other administration leaders who opposed the proposal for marketing the loan cotton 25,000 bales a week.

Large spot interests were said to be swinging to the support of the Smith program now that details of his plan have been clarified.

Roll of the bankhead act was expected to take around 150,000 bales of cotton grown outside the allotment available for immediate sale. Farmers had held this cotton off the market pending the question of the Bankhead act's constitutionality.

Goods markets reported a fair volume of business.

Port report, 17,917; week, 37,778; season, 6,001,387; last season, 3,866,735. Exports, 17,784; week, 37,957; season, 1,421,411; last season, 3,012,728. Spot stocks, 2,505,161. COTTON IRREGULAR ON N. Y. EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(P)—Cotton was irregular today with March relatively firm, on the tight spot situation.

Later months eased under liquidation and scattered selling. The close was steady, 4 points higher to 12 lower.

There was considerable switching from near to late months at the widening differences with very little March offering.

Exports today, 12,520, making 4,321,417 so far this season. Port receipts, 17,262. United States port stocks, 2,508,203.

JANUARY BUILDING DOUBLES '35 PERMITS

NEW YORK, Feb. 11.—(P)—The value of building permits issued in January, it was estimated by Dun & Bradstreet today, was more than double that of the same month last year, though lower than the December total, in accord with seasonal trend.

The permit volume of 215 cities in the principal geographic regions was placed at $54,938,059 against $62,992,039 for December, and $26,826,208 for January, 1935.

January's building total, the survey declared was the largest for that month recorded since 1931.

Cincinnati Dicker for Game With Crackers Here in July

TECH BATTLES SEWANEE CLUB HERE TONIGHT

Every Game Counts for Jackets; Starts at 8 at Armory.

By Jack Troy.

Every game counts for the Tech basketball team from now on and to-night's foe at the naval armory will be the Sewanee Tigers. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

Tech meets Sewanee, one of the remaining six conference teams on the schedule, for all the necessity of winning. A loss would virtually mean the end of conference hopes.

Some may hold the belief that Tech will run away with Sewanee, but not Coach Ray Mundorf. After watching his club battle some of best clubs to a standstill and then lose to some of the lesser forces, he feels that anything can happen.

Should Tech beat Sewanee, there would be three conference victories against four defeats. The two clubs play again at Sewanee Saturday night and Tech has a chance of finishing the week with an even .500 percentage in the conference.

IMPORTANT SERIES.

The Sewanee series is most important. At present Tech is on the ragged edge of tournament consideration.

The Jackets were going along neck-and-neck with Tennessee until this week. The Vols defeated the Crimson of Alabama Monday night and drew away.

So a triumph tonight is not only necessary but imperative. Tech must win at least four of the last six games.

The two other home games include Auburn and Florida, teams that already have beaten the Jackets.

The final two games are away from home against teams Tech has beaten—Georgia and Tennessee. Tech can't count on winning either or both of these.

Sewanee is no great threat in football, but in basketball it's a different story. The Tigers are apt to surprise most any favored team.

MUCH AT STAKE.

So to the game at the naval armory will be most interesting. And a great deal is at stake for Tech.

Coach Mundorf is expected to use the same team that started against Vanderbilt, including Ben Jones and Bill Jordan at forward, Bo Johnston at center, and Culver, Kidd, and Fletcher Sims at guard.

Replacements will come from among Whack Hyder, center; Ed Jones and Lawrence Hays, forwards; Burt Boulware and Joel Ticer, guards.

SPEER DEFEATS BABE ZAHARIAS

In a bout marked by a great deal of slugging, choking and gouging but very little actual wrestling, Frank Speer outwrestled Babe Zaharias in the main event match of the mat card at the Atlanta theater Tuesday night.

The Greek took the first fall in five minutes when he upset Speer, trying for a flying tackle, and fell on him. They traded 32 minutes before Frank took the mat with several rights to the jaw, a body slam and body press. The ex-Jacket took the winning fall in a little over one minute by dumping the big Greek on the back of his neck with such force that Zaharias was knocked cold and carried from the ring.

Dave Roan and Pat McLarry, the Irishmen, in the semi-windup, forcing the red-head to give up two straight falls with a toehold. The first fall came in 22 minutes and the second in three. Rudy Strongberg and Bob Wagner went 30 minutes without a fall in the opener. Wagner was plenty rough, but the German boy carried the edge.

U. S. DISPOSES OF CZECHS, 2-0, IN HOCKEY PLAY

American Hopes Fade, However, for Title in Olympics.

By Gayle Talbot.

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, Feb. 11. (AP)—America's hopes of earning at least one championship in the fourth winter Olympics, all but dashed.

The 500-meter speed skating championship, an event the United States had been conceded an excellent chance of winning, went to Norway, while another in which America had been favored, the four-man bob-sledding competition, was won by reach after two of our heats had been completed.

Meanwhile, Great Britain's hockey team, storm-center of the briskest controversy so far, sprang a sensation by whipping their arch-rivals and the defending Olympic champions, Canada's sextet, tonight. The final score was 2 to 1 as the Britons capitalized on the brilliant work of goalie James Foster, one of the two Canadian-trained players who were banned at first by Canada's protest and subsequently reinstated under arduous circumstances.

Despite the dismal outlook from a championship standpoint, the day was not entirely lost for the American forces. The hockey team, after a striking return to form, plastered a 20-0 defeat on Czechoslovakia after the speed skaters had finished three men in the first six to earn America's first points since the international games started last Thursday.

While the vanguard was able to shatter par in a practice swing, Orville White shot a 71, one less than standard figure, but yesterday needed 76, as did Leland Crews, Glen Arven pro and holder of the course record of 66.

White predicted a score of 286 or 287 would win the T2-hole competition over the treacherous layout, but some of the early arrivals expressed the belief the winning total would be as low as 280. The course, 6,544 yards long, with 10 dog-legs, is a sporty layout.

Located on a rolling terrain and winding roads, the course is one of the south's most picturesque courses. Others expected to check in tomorrow include Gene Sarazen, Paul Runyan, Walter Hagen, and possibly Sam Parks, national open champion. Babe Ruth and Dizzy Dean also were expected, either as competitors or spectators.

AMATEURS ENTER.

Several amateurs from this section already are entered. Among them are Johnathan Oliver, of Valdosta, former state amateur champion; Robert Parker, B. K. White, W. M. Boozer, C. W. Whitehead and C. C. Gordon of Tallahassee, Fla.; Scottie Beverly and Pat Pace of Thomasville.

Regionalists were expected from Atlanta and Macon with the prospect that every south Georgia city of consequence will be represented.

Jimmy Nichols, Valdosta's one-armed professional, was here today for practice.

NEAR RECORD.

The principal shock of the day came in the bob-sledding competition. America's two entries, piloted by J. Hubert Stevens and Francis Tyler, both of Lake Placid, N. Y., wound up in fifth and tenth places, respectively.

Although Norway gained 15 points when Ballangrud and Krog finished one-two, Germany remained far in front in the unofficial team standings with 97 points. Norway was second with 52. No other nation has scored more than 11 points.

W. H. 'COIN' HARVEY, 85 IS CLAIMED BY DEATH

Peritonitis Is Fatal to One-Time Candidate for Presidency.

MONTE NE, Ark., Feb. 11.—(P)—William Hope "Coin" Harvey, 85, veteran champion of bimetallism and one-time presidential candidate, died at his home here at 9:20 o'clock tonight.

Harvey was stricken with peritonitis following an attack of intestinal influenza. He passed into a semi-coma late today and death followed swiftly. With him at the time of his death was his second wife, Mrs. Mae Elliston Lee Harvey, to whom he was married seven years ago and who was his private secretary for more than 30 years.

His three children, Tom Harvey, of Huntington, W. Va.; Mrs. Hammill and Miss Annette Harvey, New York city, were notified late today of their father's critical condition.

Born at Buffalo, W. Va., August 16, 1851, Harvey was the son of Colonel Robert and Anna M. Hope Harvey. He was educated at Buttao Academy and Marshall College, West Virginia.

He practiced law from 1871 to 1874 and married Anna R. Hammill, of Delaware, Ohio, in 1876. They were divorced in 1920.

Harvey, on money and economics, was the presidential candidate of the liberty party in 1932 after he had been in retirement for years.

He was best known to an older generation for his "free silver" campaign with the late William Jennings Bryan in 1896.
